TOURS.

Although it's a team effort, it's really the tour guides that put us into Tripadvisor's top 3! As natural born story tellers their enthusiasm is infectious; they transport you to another time, reliving the tales of the great Irish icons who shaped modern Ireland - Collins, de Valera, Parnell, 'Big Jim' Larkin, Countess Markievicz and Brendan Behan, all now resting peacefully together.

Learn about the harsh realities of life in Dublin, eavesdrop on the stories of former gravediggers, touch the casket of Daniel O'Connell, or simply ponder the fascinating lives of those who walked these streets before us.

Combined with a visit to our award winning museum, home to The City of the Dead, you'll have experienced the rich cultural texture that is - Dublin.

FROM THE PAST
RESEARCHING YOUR FAMILY TREE
HISTORY HAS NEVER BEEN EASIER*

In recognition of the 1.5M people buried at Glasnevin, all records have been uploaded to our database and are accessible online, as are copies of the original entries from our archives. We also honour the centuries-old tradition of still entering records manually into our giant leather-bound tomes. That's a lot of records!

It is this meticulous record-keeping, coupled with advances in technology, that enable you to research your family history so thoroughly.
